Order Picker License Saskatoon

Order Picker License Saskatoon - Order picking is likewise referred to as order preparation operation. This is amongst the main processes in a warehouse and consists of people known as order pickers, collecting and taking articles in a particular quantity prior to shipment in order to complete customer orders. Order picking is a basic warehousing process. The effectiveness in which this job is done could be directly linked to a supply chain's productivity. Hence, order picking is amongst the most controlled logistic methods. Order picking falls within the category of the warehouse management system.

There are certain kinds of order picking which comprise: wave picking method, pick to box method, piece picking or picker to part method, sorting systems method and zone picking method.

The pick to box method involves the order picker filling the box with the items from his or her station. The box then moves to other picking stations until the customer order is complete. In this process, there is no movement of the order picker workers. In the wave picking method, the order pickers move round in order to gather the necessary things for some orders. The piece picking or picker to part method is similar where the order pickers or picker move to gather the items required but for one order only.

There is no movement by the order picker in the sorting systems method. Rather, stuff are delivered to the orderpicker by an automatic system like for example a conveyor system or an automatic storage system. In the zone picking method, each order picker is assigned to one specific zone. They are responsible for just realizing order picking within this particular zone.
